Housing Authority hit with suit

By JEFF BROWN
PAHOKEE — South Florida Sanitation has finally filed the lawsuit it has been threatening the Pahoee Housing Authority with since the Authority decided to collect its own garbage, according to Randall J. Mills, the authority's executive director.

The complaint, filed in the 15th Circuit

Court of Palm Beach County June 18, alleges the authority is violating property rights granted to South Florida Sanitation Company by a franchise agreement with the county.

The company claims in its suit that it was granted an exclusive franchise for the collection, removal and disposal of garbage and trash in the Glades by the January 1982 franchise agreement.

It alleges that the authority is a corporation and is violating that franchise by collecting its own garbage.

The authority has been collecting its garbage since the beginning of April. Its board of commissioners voted to collect the garbage in the authority's projects when South Florida Sanitation allegedly raised its rates in November.

South Florida claims it is losing profits and income because of the alleged violation and asked the court in the suit to prohibit the authority from removing its garbage and to assess damages and costs against it.

At a special meeting Thursday, July 1, the authority's board of commissioners granted its attorney, Michael Stauder, permission to take whatever steps he feels are necessary to fight the lawsuit.

Stauder said one of the defenses he will use will be the housing authority section of the state code permitting it to take whatever steps it deems necessary in its operation.

He said he has other defenses planned, but would not discuss them at the time.

Mills told the board that he is seeking permission from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development to file suits concerning alleged franchise violations by South Florida Sanitation.

If they receive permission, the Authority may be filing suits alleging that South Florida's rate increase was not approved by the county and that it was charging for services it did not render. The franchise agreement provided for trash pick-up in the Glades, according to Mills.

"The county told us they were denied a rate increase in November," said Mills, adding "To my knowledge, South Florida Sanitation does not own a trash truck and never has."

"Our main thing is defending this one, right here," said Commissioner Frank Gillis of the suit filed by South Florida.

Woman abducted, robbed, released

BELLE GLADE — A Belle Glade woman was briefly abducted and her car stolen Tuesday, July 6, according to Inspector Mike Miller of the Belle Glade Police Department.

According to Miller, Juanita Johnson, 28, was at her automobile at 428 NW Avenue H to pick up some teaching materials when two black men, one with a handgun, approached her at about 8:11 p.m.

The two robbed her of $19 and abducted her, escaping in her vehicle.

She was released unharmed at Duda Road and State Road 80 about half an hour later, according to Miller.

The automobile has not been recovered and police have not apprehended anyone in the incident, although they do have several suspects at press time, according to Miller. No descriptions of the suspects were released.

SB residents upset over water bills

SOUTH BAY—Approximately 10 resident upset over what they called extremely high water and sewer bills appeared before the South Bay City Commission in search of a solution to monthly increases in their bills.

Mrs. Charlotte Cullen appeared before the Commission and said for the past three months her water bill increases each month.

Mrs. Cullen, said her family of three water bill is "twice the amount" of a family of three that lives in her neighbor.

Mrs. Cullen said she could not understand why her bill was so high in comparison.

"I do not water flowers. I have no leaks and no one is at home but my daughter during the day time," said Mrs. Cullen.

Liquor license approval delayed in South Bay

SOUTH BAY—The City Commission approved the sale of alcoholic beverages at one establishment in South Bay and delayed taking action on a similar request for the sell of beer and wine at the Days Inn.

At its regular schedule meeting Tuesday night, the Commission approved the selling of beer and wine at Flora's Restaurant, located at 1025 Palm Beach Road.

The Commission gave its approval against the recommendation of the Zoning and Planning Board. Mrs. Rosa Green, owner of the restaurant, applied for the license before the Zoning and Planning Board. The Board denied the request according to City Manager Loxmax Harrell because of its location near a church.

Harrell also said the church has been built after the restaurant, and the previous owners sold beer and wine on the premises.

Attorney Thomas Alvarez, representing Mrs. Green appeared before the Commission and asked that the license be granted.

City Attorney James Gann told the Commission Mrs. Green could take the case to court and a judge could rule in favor of the Zoning Board's recommendation or against it.

In a similar request, the Commission tabled the second reading of an ordinance allowing the sell of beer and wine at the Days Inn.

Mayor Donald Tanner said there were some legal matters the city needed to looking into

All the above terms expire in June 1993.

Bills

(Continued from Page 1) Mrs. Cullen also accused the meter reader of not reading her meter. "It's covered with dirt and there is no way my meter was read," she said. Mrs. Cullen said she received a letter from the City Manager saying her meter had been read. Mrs. Cullen said after receiving the letter she called Commissioner Rennick Morris to check her meter. Commissioner Morris said he checked the meter and found it covered with dirt. He also said he could not say the City Manager had checked the meter. City Manager Loxmax Harrell said he checked the meter himself. Harrell said he had recently been released from the hospital and although he did not clean the meter off as well as it should have been cleaned, he did check the meter. Another resident also questioned why the meter reader waited three months to notify her of a leak in her line. The Commissioners were also asked what could be done to lower the monthly sewer service charge. Commissioner Morris recommended the city set a flat rate monthly rate. Mayor Donald Tanner said the city had proposed such a rate system to Farmer's Home Administration, but the plan had been rejected. Morris asked that the City approach the agency again on the matter.

Abducted

(Continued from Page 1) Joan M. Kolodziejki. Kolodziejki was apparently leaving the store with two friends when a person came up behind her and grabbed the purse she was carrying under her arm. Kolodziejki told police she feared she would be harmed, according to a report filed by Tulenwider, and accused. Dowdell heard her and pursued on foot the individual who took her bag. He supposedly told the suspect to stop, but the individual continued running. According to the report, Dowdell apprehended the individual in an alley behind the plaza. The individual was identified as Grant and taken to the police station where he confessed, claiming he was trying to raise money for a narcotics purchase, the report stated. The purse and its contents were valued at $45. He is still in custody under $5,000 bond.

Suit filed over rumor

Cincinnati, O., July 1, 1982 - The Procter & Gamble Company announced that it is taking legal action to stop the spread of rumors associating the company with satanism or devil worship. The company today filed suits in Atlanta, Georgia and Pensacola, Florida against several individuals who are charged with "libeling the character" of Procter & Gamble by circulating "false and malicious" statements about the company and by calling for a boycott of its products.

Suits were filed against Mike Campbell in Atlanta, and against Mr. & Mrs. William J. Moore, Jr. in Pensacola. In the suits, P&G charges that each individual made statements or distributed literature which stated that P&G supported satan and that its trademark was a satanic symbol. They also encouraged others to stop buying P&G products, the company claimed. P&G is asking the courts to stop the individuals from further activity and for compensatory and punitive damages.

Griffin Bell, former U.S. Attorney General, will represent Procter & Gamble in the Atlanta suit. Patricia G. Emmanuel will represent the company in the Pensacola suit.

Today's action follows an announcement last week from P&G that it is taking aggressive steps to stop the rumor. The rumors typically report that the company's "moon and stars" trademark is a symbol of satanism and devil

PG said it is receiving more than 12,000 calls each month about the rumor and has picked up copies of materials being handed out at stores and churches encouraging a boycott of P&G products. The high number of calls and the use of the reproduced handout materials suggests this is more than rumor mongering by individuals, the company said. P&G said it is investigating the possibility of additional lawsuits and that it will follow up aggressively on leads of organizations or individuals spreading the rumors.

The trademark is a circular design featuring a man-in-the-moon figure looking out over a field of thirteen stars. It has been used since 1850 and was officially registered in 1882. The symbol started as a trademark for the company.

In the hands of fools...

The fireworks at the Pahokee Harbor Sunday night, July 4, were stunning and well received.

Just as stunning and less well received were the actions of many of the spectators gathered at the dike to watch the display.

Many people were there to observe the show, while others were creating a hazardous show along side of them.

The culprits disregarded the personal safety of themselves and their fellow spectators to discharge firecrackers and flying fireworks of their own. In many cases, they had no idea where those flying fireworks would travel.

Fireworks are not toys and should not be in the hands of fools and children, as was the case in many instances at Pahokee Sunday.

If they are incorrectly used, the fireworks could cause injury.

We believe individuals should be more considerate of those near them and, if they must set off their own small fireworks, do it away from the masses.

Guest commentary...

Let your voice be heard

A message from George Firestone
Florida Secretary of State

The gun has sounded, signaling the start of the race. Every two years, like clockwork, the runners take their mark. But this year, we may expect to see the greatest number of entries in recent memory.

Election time is once again drawing near, with thousands of aspirants eyeing a U.S. Senate seat, 19 Congressional seats, the Governor's office, six Florida Cabinet positions, all 40 Florida Senate seats, all 120 seats in the Florida House of Representatives and almost 1,300 local offices.

The people of Florida will have less than two short months before the first primary election on September 7 to make important decisions about who shall govern them during the crucial years to come.

Yet, of the nearly 7.5 million voting age Floridians, about 6 million people will not be involved in the first stages of the election process. Eighty percent of Florida's electorate will not vote in the primary election and will have no voice in Florida's future.

Historically, during non-presidential election years such as this, less than two-thirds of our voting age population are registered to vote. Of those registered, less than 36 percent cast ballots in primary elections—the elections which narrow down generally huge fields of candidates to the top contenders for the posts. And that 36 percent of registered voters represents only 20 percent of Florida's entire voting age population.

In the 18th century, the English aristocrat Jonathan Swift said "all government without consent of the governed is the very definition of slavery." At the least, when the vast majority of the people refuse to take part in election process, they risk the threat of condemning all people to living under bad government.

It is the saddest of commentaries when in this, the most free and democratic form of government in the world, that such a tiny minority should decide the course of our future takes.

It is truly tragic that, in a nation that has sacrificed oceans of blood to defend its principles and protect the rights of its citizens, so many people so willingly surrender the most basic of rights—the right to vote.

As Florida's chief election officer, I urge you to reclaim that right and participate in our democratic process by registering to vote.

The deadline to register at your county elections office for the September primary is August 7; the deadline to register for the general election in November is October 2.

Let your voice be heard now—or you will let someone else speak for you later.

Everglades history... Taken from our back issues

30 YEARS AGO THE BELLE GLADE HERALD JULY 5, 1952

A hospital to serve both Belle Glade and Pahokee was endorsed by the Northwest and Southwest Palm Beach County Hospital Districts and Belle Glade Mayor Roney Parrish.

The combined hospital boards hired a hospital consultant from Miami, who was also employed by the Southwestern board to study various aspects of consolidation of the two hospitals.

The information was to be used prior to a proposed Aug. 21 straw vote which was being held to see how members of the public felt about the proposed consolidation.

A front page editorial in the Belle Glade Herald pointed out Belle Glade could get a hospital with 75 beds for less money than a 67-bed consolidated hospital would cost.

Belle Glade was experiencing a building boom, with building permits totalling $685,500 in the first six months of the year, compared to $825,973 in the first six months of the previous year.

The first permit for a fallout shelter was issued to N.B. Willis.

Palm Beach County was listed number one in the nation in the acreage of snap beans and sweet corn harvested.

30 YEARS AGO THE BELLE GLADE HERALD JULY 4, 1952

Belle Glade Mayor Herman Close offered the Army Air Corps the use of the jail roof as a ground observer platform.

The roof was to be used by six teams, each responsible for a four-hour shift. The teams were being fielded by Rotary, Lions, The American Legion, The Elks, The Negro Civic League and Women of the Community.

Clyde Clayton was appointed chief observer with Lester Clarke and Virginia Lively were assistants.

Ronald Jones said he received a "real insight" into state government after returning from a stint in Boys' State in Tallahassee.

Ronald was one of 344 boys from around the state who attended the session at Florida State University.

The delegates were divided into 16 mythical towns, which were part of four counties.

The Belle Glade Water Works had its rating increased from a C to B rating.

Superintendent Clarence Throp passed a test at a recent meeting which gave him a B rating while Harvey Matthews received his C rating.

40 YEARS AGO THE BELLE GLADE HERALD JULY 3, 1912

A new industry became a possibility for the Belle Glade area as farmers began growing plants for oils no longer available because of the war.

The essential oils were contained in five plants already being grown in the Glades. They included Cymbopogon citratus, Ocimum canum, Mentha piperita vulgaris, Palargonium capitatum and Mentha arvensis piperascens.

Those five were in small scale production and another three were still in the experimental stage. The experimental plants were Java Citronella Grass, Cymbopogon Martini and Kocilia Muticum.

Palm Beach doctors announced they would begin rationing medical service and house calls would be made only when necessary, not for the patient's convenience.

The rationing was to be made because of the increasing need for physicians in the armed services.

A garfish must have read the apocryphal "man bites dog" story because this one turned the table on a pair of fishermen.

The gar was hooked by George Petriacque and Henry Shugr, Petriacque, thinking to kill the gar, stomped a hole in the boat bottom instead.

The two had to get out and push their leaky boat to shore.

And still unaccounted

It seems incredible, but almost 10 years after we pulled out of Vietnam, the prisoner of war/missing in action question still has not been resolved.

There are an estimated 2,500 men still missing and unaccounted for. While there is little hope that they are still alive, their families can only continue to hope for an answer some day.

National POW/MIA recognition day will be held Friday, July 9, according to U. S. Rep. L. A. "Skip" Bafalis, as a tribute to those still missing.

Bafalis notes in his most recent newsletter that over 142,000 citizens of the United States have been confined as POWs during our various wars.

Speaking of Bafalis, it may be unwise to write him off so early in his campaign for the governor's office.

During his recent visit to the Glades, Bafalis confidently expressed the feeling that his name recognition among Florida voters had improved faster than his strategists had projected.

There are some who feel that Bafalis is carefully controlling the tempo of his campaign, timing it to peak with the general election this fall.

It will be interesting to see if Bafalis, widely known as friend of the Glades, will be helped or hurt by the current fiscal situation.

Tuesday morning's eclipse was an astonishing sight for those who stayed up to see it. In days of old, soothsayers probably would have said the red coloring portended a war or other blood letting.

Today, we recognize that it reflects the state of our national budget.

Taxes rose to close to $5 an acre, according to a story on a publication which revealed "the heavy burden in the upper Glades".

The delinquent tax roll showed very few owners of the property for which the taxes were delinquent. Most were listed as unknown.

A Hialeah firm was looking for a tract of land to build a plant to dehydrate grass for cattle feed.

C.F. Eddy visited Canal Point after he and two companions had visited Okeechobee City and elsewhere in the Lake Okeechobee region.

The first year's interest on bonds issued in the reorganization of the Southern Sugar Company, whose plantations and mills in the Glades were being operated by a reorganized United States Sugar Corp., had been paid.

Southern Sugar went into receivership in 1930. It was a B.G. Dahlberg Corporation.

ple markings on crates of Star Candles, an early Procter & Gamble product, and evolved over the years to a formal design showing a man-in-the-moon, a popular figure of the 1900's and thirteen stars representing the original colonies.

Several nationally prominent religious leaders have called for an end to the spread of "malicious and totally false" rumors about the Procter & Gamble Company. The release of the statements is the latest action by P&G to stop the spread of the unfounded rumors that its corporate "moon and stars" trademark is a satanic symbol signifying a company connection with satanism or devil worship.

Reverend Jerry Falwell, host of the national television and radio program, "Old Time Gospel Hour," said, "It is unfortunate that such false accusations are made in the first place, but even more concerning that they can be spread as rumor by people calling themselves Christians. I have discussed these rumors with the Chairman of the Board of Procter & Gamble, who happens to be from my hometown in Virginia, and I am certain neither he nor his company is associated in any way with satanism or devil worship. Christians have a responsibility to know the truth before spreading stories and, in this case, the truth is there is no story to tell. I urge Christians everywhere to help put an end to these unfortunate rumors."

Reverend Jimmy Draper, President of the Southern Baptist Convention, said, "Southern Baptists always have stood for openness and integrity. We are a people who believe in and rely on truth. This kind of reckless accusation on the part of alleged Christians is damaging to the cause of Christ, as well as the business of an excellent company. I implore all our Christian community to stand up and put an end to the unfounded and untrue rumors."

The Reverend Donald E. Wildmon, a Methodist minister and Executive Director of the National Federation for Decency, said, "The facts are that this is a vicious, unfounded rumor, and I hope we can help stop it. I ask my fellow ministers and others in position of influence to inform their people that the rumor is untrue and for those people to continue using P&G's fine products as they have in the past."

City rec program offers class in muscle toning

BELLE GLADE "Let's Dance to the Music" a popular rhythm and blues number could very well serve as the background music for a special class going on at Glades Central.

The tempo is such that just about anyone can keep in tempo with it.

Yet like most classes, except music classes, the sound of music is missing.

In this new class at Glades Central a new song is being recorded, "Let's Hear Some Music" and it's the background workout song for approximately 60 youth participating in a seven week muscle toning class sponsored by City of Belle Glade.

Monday through Friday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., in the Glades Central weight room, Willie McDonald, the instructor for the class can be heard saying "let's hear some music...give me some music...come on Duhart make the music...make the music."

The instruments for this music making production is the lifting of the universal machine and the various weight lifting and muscle toning machines.

According to McDonald there are approximately 30 stations, including a station for bench pressing, sit-ups, two arm curls, leg press, and pull-ups.

When the sound of music stop it's a sign to McDonald that no one is exercising and the one minute thirty second time period allotted for each station grows into two minutes.

Students in the class can be heard telling other participants "let's make some music Duhart."

Tommie Duhart is a member of the Glades Central High football team and one of the largest players on the team. Participants in the program expect him to continue "making music" when they are taking a unscheduled break.

This is the second year the program has been offered by McDonald. He said he started the program last year after observing many youth using the machinery improperly.

"The youth would use the equipment to strengthen the top half of the body and forget all about the bottom half," he said.

McDonald said the class is one of muscle toning and not body building. The class is open to the public at no cost. McDonald said although the majority of the participants are athletes, the program is for anyone.

McDonald said many former Glades area athletes are also using the facility. Professional football players Ricky Jackson and James Bur-

TONY HASAM, a pole vaulter for the Glades Central track team also works out in the program.

TO HELP TONE the leg muscles this young man uses a discus anchored on bar.

The program includes some 30 stations with a variety of machinery to exercise with.

THE MUSCLE TONING class offers something for every muscle in the body.

Spectacular lunar eclipse observed

The longest eclipse of the moon in more than 100 years — since 1859 — was observed in the Glades and many other parts of the Earth from 12:23 a.m. to 6:40 a.m. Tuesday, July 8.

Many people in Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay extended their waking hours into the early morning to observe the phenomenon.

The spectators were rewarded for their vigil by the spectacle of the moon changing from a bright silver to a strange red color about 1:33 a.m.

The darker shadow lasted until about 4:24 a.m., when the moon began to brighten again as it moved out of the earth's shadow.

Mark Kelly, 27, a Glades area mathematics teacher and an astronomy buff, served as tour guide for the once-in-a-lifetime phenomenon.

"The dramatic color changes were caused in part by smoke from the El Chichon Volcano in Mexico," Kelly said.

Following is Mark Kelly's minute-by-minute record of his observance of Tuesday morning's eclipse:

11:30 to 12:00 we set up our observatory (put together the telescope and made sure cold drinks and pretzels were within easy reach).

12:00 to 12:22 we spent taking "before" pictures to make sure the camera worked.

12:22 was when the eclipse was supposed to officially begin, but we didn't notice anything different until about 12:30 when we realized that the moon really was getting darker — it just wasn't very noticeable. The shooting stars were much more exciting!

1:33 — The show is on! Right on schedule, we saw a small, curved black shadow take a bite from the left-hand edge of the moon.

At 2:05 — The shadow covered half of the moon. It looked like a crescent moon except for the fact that the shadowed part was a weird red color. We had not been able to see this color earlier, except through the telescope. We could see many more stars now because the glare was gone.

At about 3:30 — The moon was a dark brown color around the bottom half and almost completely gone near the top. We could just barely see features on the surface if we looked very carefully through the telescope. This was definitely the darkest eclipse I have ever seen.

After 3:30 — The whole process reversed itself. The moon got progressively brighter, and at 4:24, exactly, the first bit of light hit the upper-left part of the moon. This bit of light grew into a crescent shape and kept getting larger and brighter until about 4:26 when the moon finally became full again. Technically, it was still in the lighter portion of the earth's shadow, but unless I hadn't read about it, I wouldn't have noticed. I decided to let other astronomers have the honor of watching until 6:40 when the eclipse was officially over. I went home to dream about it.

THE FULL lunar majesty was revealed Tuesday morning when the moon went into hiding from the sun in the earth's shadow. The moon was still silver when this photograph was taken, but later changed to a strange red color.

Fading fast...

Going, going, gone. Such was the sentiment early Tuesday morning as most parts of North America caught a spectacular view of a lunar eclipse.

A diagram of what happened during the lunar eclipse of July 8, 1982. The spectacular of the color changes occurred from 1:33 a.m. to 4:24 a.m. when the moon was the deepest part of the earth's shadow.

RAINS drenched the area Monday night, but cleared by 11:30 p.m. The moon was able to shine easily through the high altitude clouds which lingered after the rains had blown through. This

E.F.E. sweeps doubleheader to keep pace with Theo's

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE - Everglades Farm Equipment and Theo's have been fighting it out for second place in the B Division for about a month.

Theo's won two games early last week, and E.F.E. went into Thursday night's doubleheader with Ag Service knowing they would have to win both games to remain tied at second.

Ag Service, resting comfortably at the bottom of the division, had won their third game of the season during the week. They put two men on in the first of the E.F.E. pitcher, Ken Coghill.

T. Woods knocked a two out single into center. He was followed by Chryst Doney who advanced him to third with his own single to center.

William Mergott's fly ball ended the inning, however.

E.F.E. jumped to a three run lead in the bottom of the first with three hits.

Timmy Laster reached first when Ag Service's pitcher, Chryst Doney, bobbled the ball.

Ronald Davis was issued a walk and Wayne Meadows loaded the bases with a single to center.

Raymond Cunningham's grounder to Meadows scored Davis but saw Meadows take the tag at the plate for the second out.

Cunningham scored when a

Wayne Marchant fly to rightfielder James Boyd was dropped.

Joe Alba flew to the shortfielder to end the inning.

Ag Service came back with two runs on three hits in the second to make it a 3-2 ball game.

Terry Agnew walked and was caught between third and home when he tried to score on a single into center by Donnie Watson.

Watson took third on the play.

Manuel Phillips drove him in with a triple into right field.

James Boyd's single into right center scored Phillips from third.

Boyd was doubled up on a grounder to short by Harloid Edwards.

E.F.E. grabbed those two runs back in the bottom of the inning.

Ken Coghill singled to left and advanced to third on a single into the same area by Berry Underwood.

Both runners scored when Timmy Laster doubled into right field.

Ag Service, playing better ball than their record indicates, came back with a run in the third.

Griffith singled to left to lead off the inning. He advanced to third on a single by Woods and scored on a single into right by Doney.

Doney held E.F.E. to two hits and no runs in the third and retired the side in order in the fourth.

In the top of the fourth, Coghill struck out Terry Agnew and allowed one Ag Service batter, Manuel Phillips, to reach on an error.

In the fifth inning, he gave up two hits but gave up no runs.

Meadows opened the bottom of the fifth with an inside the park home run which dropped near the right field fence.

Cunningham hit a one out single to right. Marchant doubled to advance him to third and Mayon McMullen drove him in with a single into shallow left.

Coghill and Underwood each reached on two out singles, but the inning ended with Laster's grounder to the pitcher.

Ag Service closed the gap to 9-8 with a five run sixth inning, but E.F.E. added two more in the bottom of the inning and held Ag Service scoreless in the seventh to win the game 11-8.

In other B Division games, Theo's beat Seminole 10-1 and clubbed Ag Service for a 16-1 victory.

E.F.E. won the second game of their double header against Ag Service 7-4.

Ag Service defeated Quaker Oats 18-10 and Duda won a forfeit from Quaker Oats.

It was Seminole Supply Oldtimers 7, Ag Service 6 in the only other game of the week.

All Stars defeat Canipe

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE - The All Stars met last place Bobby Canipe and came away with a decisive victory to stay in the thick of things in the struggle for a play-off berth in the A Division.

Bobby Canipe, who has won two games all season, lost the game, abbreviated by the to the twelve run rule, when they failed to score a run in their half of the second inning to close a 20-8 deficit.

The All Stars opened an early lead when they scored four runs on five hits in the first and five runs on four hits in the second before Bobby Canipe got on board.

Lead-off batter Frank Williams singled to the left side of the infield and Norman Smith was issued a walk by Doug Williams to put runners at second and first.

Jessie Brown, the team's leading hitter, drove in Williams with a single into left-center, putting runners at the corners with no outs.

Walker Collins singled to drive in Smith.

Willie McKelvin drove in Brown from third with a single into left-center field.

Leonard Cappel lined-out to shortstop Roger Dunaway and David Bailey popped to the first baseman to bring L. Butts to the plate with two outs and runners at the corners.

His single to left drove in Collins and advanced McKelvin to third.

James Field flew out to right field to end the inning.

Juel Everett led off the top of the second with a free pass to first. Frank Williams flew out to left and Norman Smith reached on a first baseman's error.

Jessie Brown hit his first of two homeruns on the night with two runners on and the score went up to 7-0 in the All Stars favor.

Camel kept things going with a single to left and David Bailey stretched a long shot to the right field fence into a triple, driving in Collins and Camel.

Butts flew out to the shortstop to tend the inning at 9-0.

Canipe picked up three runs in the bottom of the second with a four hit assault.

Curtis led-off with a single to center and Charles Miller advanced him to third with a single to left center.

Zane Miller's ground-out, to shortstop Leonard Camel, scored Monkey.

Doug Williams was walked by Collins and Pat Masters drove in Johnson with a single to right field.

Danny Priest grounded out to the second baseman to end the inning.

The All Stars stretched their lead to 14 when they picked up eight runs on six hits in the third inning.

Norman Smith doubled in two runs when he hit the ball into right with the bases loaded. James Field and Juel Everett scored on the play.

Jessie Brown followed with his second consecutive three run homer.

GLADES SUGAR'S bats cooled and Okeelanta's caught fire to tighten up the A Division race for a play-off berth. Glades

Sugar and Mace Sod are in a virtual tie for the top spot in the division.

Okeelanta bats knock Glades Sugar from top spot

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE - Glades Sugar, in first place in the A Division since day one of the season, finally fell from grace last week when Okeelanta clubbed them for six homers in six innings for a 14-2 victory.

Donnie Hilyer, pitching for Okeelanta, gave up seven hits in the game shortened by the twelve run rule. He gave up a lead-off walk in the first. Mike Haddan and fell into trouble when Glenn Collier singled to right, but with no outs and runners at first and second, Glades Sugar failed to capitalize.

Okeelanta hit Glades Sugar pitching hard in the first inning, Mike Frazier giving up five hits and four runs.

Jack McClain touched him for a lead-off single to left and advanced to second when John Mack reached base on an error by Glades Sugar's second baseman Mark Carlton.

Doug Roberson, who hit four homeruns in two games the previous week, sent a ball over the left field fence and collected three RBIs.

Marc Oxford flew out to left, bringing up Wes Kadell. Kadell crushed the ball for the second homer off Frazier that inning, giving Okeelanta a 4-0 lead.

Mike Burkett sent a ball to deep right field, but Glenn Collier snagged it for the second out of the inning.

It wasn't over yet, as Okeelanta mustered another threat before Glades Sugar got out of the inning.

Herbie Giese singled into right field and Mark Carlton singled to left to advance him to second.

Donnie Hilyer stranded the runners when he grounded to short for the final out of the inning.

Frazier, leading off the second for Glades Sugar, tried to help his own cause when he singled into left. Randy Worthy reached on an error by shortstop Funderburk, advancing Frazier to second base.

Funderburk came back to field a grounder off the bat of Dwaine Doney and throw out Frazier at third.

A fly-out to center by Kelkey Ruiz advanced both runners, Doney and Worthy, to scoring position with two outs, but a line drive up the middle by Bubba Miller was snagged by Hilyer at the mound for the third out.

Okeelanta was retired in the second when Ronnie Hart, McClain and Mack flew out.

In the top of the third, Glades Sugar's Glenn Collier reached first on a single up the middle with one out.

Mickey Freeman's bounce to short was fielded by John Mack, who threw out Collier at second and Funderburk flew out to center.

Doug Roberson continued his one man assault in the bottom of the inning with a lead-off homerun over the left field wall.

Marc Oxford grounded to the shortstop to bring Wes Kadell back to the plate.

Kadell kept pace with Roberson by hitting his second consecutive homer of the night over the left field wall, and Okeelanta had widened their lead to 6-0.

Giese advanced him to third with a single to right, but Carlton followed with a pop-up to the center fielder. Hilyer stopped to the plate with runners at the corners and two outs and grounded to the third-baseman who threw to first for the final out.

Glades Sugar sent four batters to the plate in the fourth, but mustered only one hit, a two out single to right center by Randy Worthy.

Coverdale grounded to the first baseman, Frazier flew out to left and Doney's sharply hit ball to the left side was snagged by third baseman McClain for the final out.

Glades Sugar picked up two more runs on three hits in the bottom of the fourth.

Mack connected for a two-out single into right and advanced to second on a left field single by

DR. DAVID T. EVANS

EVERGLADES PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Your Eyes Must Be Sound
David T. Evans
Minister

Houses used to be built so that they were light and airy. Large windows let in the sunshine and were usually placed so that cross-ventilation was possible.

Most houses now are built with small windows and are air-conditioned. The homes depend on artificial light and conditioned air.

Jesus says, "The eyes are the lamp of the body." It has been said that "The eyes are the windows of the soul." We might say that the eye gives light to the whole body.

Like the window the eye must have a clear, clean and undistorted view. For Jesus goes on to say, "So if your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light."

The amount of light that goes through the window depends on the size and condition of the glass through which it goes. So Jesus says, the light that goes through the eye to the soul depends on the spiritual condition of the eye.

Our eyes may be blinded or hindered by a number of things. If we have a warped viewpoint, this may be caused by preconceived opinions.

Very few of us can look with eyes that are not conditioned by ideas or notions which really prejudice the situation. Many times this prejudice is without grounds. Sometimes it is that we just do not want to walk any new paths.

Our views ought to be based on fearless analysis to be sure we are acting on principle rather than acting for or against a preconceived biasless judgement.

Our life will be fuller if we look at life through generous eyes, unwarped and undistorted by distorted vision.

The vision to spiritual eyes may be conditioned or blurred by envy. Many times we want exclusive and unreasonable devotion. If anyone detracts us from this, suspicion and even hatred may come in.

Christ give us unconditional loyalty and devotion. We need only to put our complete trust in Him and then our eyes are no longer distorted by jealousy.

Many a friendship and/or marriage has been derailed by jealousy or envy. Perfectly innocent incidents are translated into guilty or traitorous actions and there by blinding the eyes to truth, fact, and love.

Jesus says let in great windows of light. Be generous with the light you let into your soul. Dr. Barclay paraphrases, "There is nothing like generosity for giving you a clear and undistorted view of life and of people."

Let us be generous in our judgements of others and in our actions. The generosity must start with ourselves at home so to speak.

Generosity in our judgements of others will make life a lot more enjoyable. Being generous allows an easier relationship with others.

If we are ready to expect the best of people and yet at the same time know that everyone is just as weak as we are, then we know they will make mistakes too.

This freer relationship cuts the tension within ourselves and with others. It allows the understanding love of Christ to flow through our lives and between friends and relatives and neighbors.

Generosity in our actions is in reality putting our judgements and thoughts into operation. It means we are willing to take time for others and we do it out of love.

As the generosity of our actions permeates our lives, a special glow or warmth flows through our veins. Life will be enjoyable because our vision is sound, clear, and lets light into our souls.

Tips for cleaning house

How would you like to clean your house, keep your figure trim and save money at the same time? It's far from a dream. In fact, more and more people are going back to some time-tested methods for just those reasons.

One of them is the faithful carpet sweeper. Just think, by pushing a carpet sweeper around the house, you'll have a clean house and get exercise without spending a cent for expensive and valuable energy.

Using a sweeper like the latest Double Action from Bussell, you can win on all counts. The Double Action is the very latest from this progressive company and it has some features you'd likely like to fancy.

For instance, it combines two types of brushes in a double, back-and-forth action that picks up large particles like paper clips, nails, broken glass and even the fine debris like sand and dirt.

Water storage capabilities for South Florida's thirstiest east coast have been greatly improved, thanks to the recent completion of the South Florida Water Management District's newest backpumping facility of the North River Canal. The backpumping station was inaugurated in a ceremony at the site west of Ft. Lauderdale Monday, June 28. District Chairman Bob Clark of Ft. Lauderdale congratulated District employees from the Ft. Lauderdale Field Station for completing the construction of the backpumping station in time to capture early summer rains so that they could be pumped west into Water Conservation Area 3A.

The new backpumping unit will enhance water storage capabilities by about 125,000 acre feet of water per year, enough to meet the water supply needs of a city the size of Ft. Lauderdale for two years.

During the inaugural ceremony, Clark also praised Florida State Representative Frank Messersmith (R-West Palm Beach) for sponsoring legislation vital to water supply interests in South Florida.

"Frank has been a true friend of the South Florida Water Management District and the people of South Florida," Clark said. "He has taken a common sense approach to legislation concerning water managment."

A LARGE CROWD gathered on the Pahokee Harbor dike July 4 to watch the annual fireworks display. Rain forced the display to start early.

Staff photos by Jeff Brown

Rain forces early start to fireworks in Pahokee

PAHOKEE — The fireworks at Pahokee Harbor Sunday, July 4, started a little early due to inclement weather, according to Building Inspector Philip Skonaker.

Skonaker said rain forced him and his crew to start discharging the fireworks prior to the scheduled 9:30 p.m. start.

Skonaker said one of the major attractions couldn't be used because it got wet in the rain. The flag fireworks display was composed of phosphorus and igniting it represented too great a risk after it got wet, so it was destroyed. "You got that stuff wet, and it's just like throwing a match at 10 gallons of gasoline," said Skonaker.

Skonaker has been working with the annual fireworks display for 37 years.

His 18-man crew consisted of Unsmail Trull, Wade Wagoner, Paul Skonaker, Randy Norwood, Danny Norwood, Wayne Montgomery, Gary Sanders, Todd Granima, Angus Thompson and Ray Sims.

New store manager named

BELLE GLADE — Curtis Mathis of Belle Glade has announced the appointment of Earl Smith as the new manager of the local store as of this week.

Smith will be taking over the management of the store from Jim Ristich, who was the manager for almost a year. Ristich has not announced his future plans.

Mr. Smith is a resident of Clewiston. He is originally from Bradford, a small country town in northern Florida on the Suwannee River where he grew up. He and his wife Sandra have a four year old son, Benjie.

He graduated from the University of West Florida in Pensacola in 1980 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in physical education and recreation. He taught school and was a coach for ten years.

Before taking the position at Curtis Mathis, Smith worked for two years at Glades Mercantile in Belle Glade. He said he knows this area very well and likes working in Belle Glade.

10% ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE MORTGAGE FINANCING FOR OUR CUSTOMERS

Jim Walter can build and finance your new home for only 10% annual percentage rate. This means that, over a twenty year period, you can save many, many thousands of dollars compared to a mortgage of only 3 or 4 percent more. For example, should you have a new home built, that has a $30,000 cash price, and finance it with a 14% 20 year mortgage, you would pay back over $20,000 MORE than if Jim Walter built and financed a home having this same cash price. And the additional 4% would raise your payments almost $84.00 per month, each month for 20 years. Check the chart in this ad and see for yourself how much better off your budget will be with extra money to spend every month when Jim Walter builds and finances for you.

Talk to a Jim Walter Homes representative and get complete information without obligation. We want you to see the many homes we offer. We want you to know the details about doing some of the inside finishing work you can do for yourself to save even more money. # PM Magazine hosts say they enjoyed Glades Glades area residents have had the opportunity this week to see the Lake Okechobee area featured on segments of PM Magazine.

The television programs were taped several weeks ago as part of a month featuring different regions of Palm Beach County each week.

Monday, July 6, the program featured Christian. Tuesday it featured Belle Glade. Wednesday it featured Okechobee, today it features Pahokee and Friday it features Indiantown.

The segment on Christian features the Christian Inn, the Old South Baroque restaurant, and the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative in Belle Glade. Co-host Rock Rote said the co-op was included in the Christian segment. In the Christian segment, Christian is "the major capital of the world." The Belle Glade segment included film on Krasner Island, J-Mark Fish Camp and City Hall.

In Okechobee, the program filmed at the county courthouse, the old school house and MacArthur Farms. Pahokee's tower and the Bank of Pahokee were filmed with a restaurant, Lillie Mae's in Canal Point.

In Indiantown, the marina and Seminole Inn were used for filming.

The segments in the Glades were not feature length but used as tie-ins to other stories, according to Rote and his co-host, Inge Dennis.

Most of their filming is done in the coast, and the two said they noticed several differences between the two areas.

"We don't have a big city over there in West Palm Beach," said Rote. "But it's a pretty fast pace. This slows it down a little. The people are more relaxed."

"Also, the people have been here for generations," said Dennis. "There's a lot of history. They treat you as if you're welcome in the town."

"Everybody seems to have a story to tell," said Rote.

He said he likes the feeling of growing up again and thinks the area is "beautiful."

"We really enjoyed the Glades area and will probably be back at the end of the year," said Dennis.

PM Magazine several segments in the Glades to be aired this week. From left are hosts Rock Rote and Inge Dennis.

PBJC Glades enrollment up

Enrollment at Palm Beach Junior College continues to show sizeable increase over year-ago figures, with the current Summer Term in the history of the college.

The latest previous Summer Term was last year, when 2,903 were registered at the beginning of the term. The 983 difference is partly accounted for by quicker reporting of non-credit students, but even with that correction, there are 488 more credit students than a year ago, an increase of 16.6 per cent. The principle gains were at PBJC Central, west of Lake Worth, and at PBJC North, on PGA Blvd., with smaller gains registered at PBJC South and PBJC Glades.

The Summer Term is a six-week session which ends July 28, and is the term during which PBJC's enrollment is at its smallest during the year.

It is the final term of the academic year. This year, PBJC showed enrollment gains in every term over the previous year.

The City of Association of Women's Clubs of Belle Glade will host the convention in 1985. Mrs. Mable E. Belle of Ocala serves as President of the convention.

All the clubs in the Glades affiliated with the City Association of Women's Club of Belle Glade received the Ruby Garner Community Project Award.

On Tuesday, June 22, the Public Relations Seminar kicked off the agenda with Mrs. Willie M. Adams, presiding.

Representatives from media organizations and health care agencies appeared on the program.

Plenary sessions were also held Tuesday with Dr. Ruby J. Gainer and Mrs. Wilmet Moore Comery presiding.

Tuesday evening "A Look At Our Youth" was held. The program included talents and fashion presentation.

Miss Karol Denise Smith of Pahokee was crowned Miss Florida Association of the Girl's Clubs. Miss Smith, president of the Unique Girls Club of Belle Glade also is the queen of that club.

She was a 1982 debutante and a graduate of Pahokee High School.

Mrs. Francis Smith, the mother of the winner, said the Glades Clubs helped carry Karol over the top to win the competition. "Delegates from clubs from Pahokee and Belle Glade gave Karol donations towards the contest," said Mrs. Smith.

Miss Smith also was elected first vice-president of the girl's clubs convention. Treasura Ybette Smith, was elected second vice-president and Mary Smith was elected the parliamentarian.

According to Mrs. Mizell, a large delegation of Glades youth were in attendance, including Willie Lawrence of Belle Glade, president of the Boys' Auxiliary.

The convention closed with the eighth plenary session which consisted of committee reports and the election of officers. Mrs. Francis Smith of Pahokee was elected state supervisor of the Girl's Clubs.

Among the clubs represented at the convocation were the Friendship Women's Club, The Essence Unique Ladies, The Glades bonique Ladies and the Ladies In Unity Club. Belle Glade clubs in attendance included, The Chic Madames Club, the Violeta Community Club, the Glades Silhouettes, The Elite Community Club, the United Women's Club, Women's Civic Club, The El Dorado Civic Club, the Unique Girls Club and the Mystique Girls and Boys Club.

The City of Association of Women's Clubs of Belle Glade will host the convention in 1985. Mrs. Mable E. Belle of Ocala serves as President of the convention.

Planned Parenthood announces Christmas card contest

West Palm Beach - Deborah Beard, Executive Director of Planned Parenthood of the Palm Beach Area, Inc., announced that the non-profit, family planning agency is holding a contest for an original Christmas card design by a young artist.

The winning design will be featured on greeting cards to be sold in the community for the benefit of Planned Parenthood. Cash prizes of $100, $50, and $25, donated by supporters of Planned Parenthood, will be awarded to the top three entries.

"We are asking contestants to use a family Christmas theme in designing the greeting card," Mrs. Beard said.

"As an agency, we want to emphasize that Planned Parenthood is pro-family and pro-child. Our basic goal is that every child be loved and wanted."

To involve children in this project, Planned Parenthood has restricted the contest to boys and girls between the ages of 10 - 17.

All entries must be submitted on white art-board, size 8 1/2 x 11", and include the name, address, telephone number, and age of the contestant. The deadline for entering is August 15 and the winner will be announced in September.

For more information, call Planned Parenthood at 848-6300.

Nematodes:

Using solar energy
to get rid of a pest

Gainesville - If nematodes get more nourishment from your vegetable plot than you do, take heart. A University of Florida researcher says an easy-to-apply dose of solar power may rid your garden of the root-destroying pests without the use of poisons or chemicals.

Dr. Robert A. Dunn of the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS) says the method involves using the sun's rays and a plastic sheet to literally cook the nematodes out of the soil.

Dunn says the best time of year to try the technique is during the hot summer months. He advises gardeners to first rake and till the soil until the dirt is smooth, without clods or "fresh" root fragments. Then, water it well, because water will help conduct the heat. Cover the garden area with a clear plastic tarpaulin, and seal the edges of the plastic to the earth with soil. If the cover is left undisturbed for four weeks or more, temperatures in the soil will reach 120 degrees to about one foot deep.

When the soil gets that hot for that long, it's good-by nematodes.

"It's the poorman's way of heat treating the soil," says Dunn, referring to the steam treatments used for nematode control by big growers. "Soil solarization originated in Israel and Jordan and it has worked well there for 12 years."

Dunn says solar techniques have not been fully tested in Florida, but on experimental plots in Bradenton, tomato plants in the untreated plot suffered from Fusarium wilt, a fungal disease often associated with nematode infestations. Only eight percent of the plants in the solarized plot suffered from wilt. More tests, according to Dunn, will be done this summer.

Soil solarization apparently does not kill all the natural enemies of the nematodes, so Dunn and his colleagues think nematodes may have a harder time re-establishing themselves after the plastic comes off than they would if soil fumigant chemicals were used.

Dunn does recommend that gardeners using the method apply it carefully. He advises them to use clear polyethylene sheets, not black mulch plastic. He suggests that the entire area, including paths and row middles, be covered, and that the cover be kept on until the garden is actually ready to plant. He also notes that the method doesn't work well on high, narrow raised beds, because much heat can escape at night.

The soil solarization treatment may not be perfect in all situations, but it's inexpensive and you can put it together in a weekend," Dunn says. "Gardeners should try it."

Florida should not bear burden of CBI

By DOYLE CONNER

Legitimate questions are being raised by Florida growers and ranchers about the proposed Caribbean Basin Initiative. They, and I, don't want Florida agriculture to bear the burden of a foreign policy program however much the State Department desires to improve our image in Latin America.

Members of the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives also have raised thorny points in the early stages of development of the CBI program. So many issues have been raised already there are some who think it possible the President may abandon the program and attempt a direct-aid approach to help improve the Caribbean basin economic situation.

The overall thrust of the CBI program is to raise the level of economic standards in those beneficiary nations around the Caribbean rim and thwart attempts to subvert democracy. Eventually, there is an underlying hope of luring Cuba back into the fold and away from Soviet Russia domination.

The CBI proposal would encourage unrestricted trade between those beneficiary countries and the United States. It also would encourage investment in beneficiary countries by U.S. interests with tax credit incentives along with direct aid of some $350 million.

"Dumping," or selling products in this country below the prevailing price of the product in the country of origin, would not be allowed. Restrictions would apply to imports of sugar, because of the provisions of the 1961 farm act, and exemption from duty-free status was included for leather goods and textiles.

If there were no restrictions on perishable fruits and vegetables, trade with the Caribbean area could cause Florida agriculture to suffer especially since the shipping season could well be over by the time trade sanctions could be invoked after the complaint and hearing process.

In addition to worries about unrestricted imports, increased trade in agricultural products could introduce exotic foreign pests and diseases into our state or require us to specify shipping conditions which would discourage shippers from beneficiary countries.

Florida growers also feel the inexpensive labor and land in the Caribbean would give growers in the CBI too much of an advantage over Florida for our products to be competitive. Investment aid and tax proposals also could weigh the scales against Florida growers.

Auto travel remains popular

Tallahassee - Despite higher fuel prices, the automobile is expected to remain the most popular means of transportation for the American family on vacation in 1983 said the Florida Highway Patrol today.

Colonel Eldridge Beach, Patrol director said, "Before you go on vacation this summer, be sure to have your vehicle serviced and checked: tires, brakes, exhaust system, fan belts, fluid levels, battery, hoses, fuel line, lights, windshield wipers and safety belts."

He continued, "Pack a tool kit, flashlight with fresh batteries, pliers, a screwdriver, electrical tape for fixing wiring and hoses temporarily, battery jumper cables, a fire extinguisher, flares and daylight reflectors. Make sure the jack is in working order. Also have a good first aid kit. Being ready for an emergency is half the battle."

Other tips include keeping your safety belt buckled and put infants in proper restraint devices. Obey the 55 mph speed limit. Fuel efficiency is from 10 to 30% better at 55 mph than at 70 mph and tests show that in a million, the chances of getting killed are doubled with each ten miles of speed over 55 mph.

Take a break when you feel tired or sleepy. Don't try to push yourself or your vehicle too far in one day. If you leave the road before dark, it will be easier to find food and accommodations. Drive defensively. Expect the other driver to make mistakes and be prepared to react quickly. Anticipate when you must speed up or slow down by keeping plenty of room between you and the car ahead. It will save wear and tear on the brakes and save fuel.

Colonel Beach concluded by adding an extra word of caution for small car drivers, "Occupants of smaller cars are eight times more likely to be injured than the passengers of larger cars in a crash. The mix of different sizes of vehicles on the road makes it wise for the driver of a small car to be especially alert."

SAM BORIS and his son, Neal, 7, spent the Fourth of July down of Pahokee's Lake Okechobee waterfront fishing. Many local residents spent the holiday watching fireworks, swimming, picnicking, or working around the house.

Aerial spraying increased

West Palm Beach - After hearing that nearly a thousand complaints have been received over the past week, the Palm Beach County Commission has voted to increase aerial spraying for mosquitoes in the county.

County mosquito control director, Ron Day, told board members during their regular session Tuesday, June 28, that the calls were coming in on the average of three to four hundred a day, and he asked for permission to extend the hours beyond the current night time spraying.

The board's decision to change the hours is a reversal of an earlier commission action which refused to allow spraying from the air during daylight hours, because of complaints from county homeowners who said daylight spraying would jeopardize their hives.

Under the terms of the boards two to one vote Tuesday, spraying will be allowed until one hour after sunrise, and one hour before sunset.

In other action the county commission:

—Approved a new redistricting alignment for the five county commission districts. Previous boundary lines that were set earlier this year were challenged in court, and a judge ruled that the lines were illegal because district five, which encompasses the Glades portion of the county did not have a population count equal to the other four districts. The plan approved by the board is known as A-1, and gives district five, now represented by Commissioner Bill Bailey, all of the land area in the county west of the Florida Turnpike.

—Voted no to a new proposal that would institute a $100 fee for all concealed handgun permits in Palm Beach County. After hearing from gun permit holders during a public hearing on the proposed ordinance, the board voted three to two against a substitute measure that would have lowered the fee to $50. On the failure of that motion, the county now continues under the current concealed weapons permit ordinance which requires no fee, and a $100.00 bond payable to the State of Florida.

—Heard a report from the development team building the new county administrative complex. Bill Clark, head of the team, said the board that at present, projections show that the project will be completed one million dollars under budget. Clark also told commissioners that the building will be finished on schedule, with completion set for April.

—Approved a $2500.00 allocation to the Palm Beach County Senior Olympics program. The Senior Olympics, directed by Singer Island resident Marya Joyce, operates sports competition for citizens over 55 years of age each year in the county.

—Boarded for inspection one of eight new buses that have just arrived in the county, and will be added to the current fleet of CoTrans vehicles as replacement for older coaches. The new Gruman Flexible buses are larger than the current buses on the road, holding up to 45-passengers. All are air-conditioned, and equipped with wheel chair lifts to make them totally accessible to the handicapped. The buses were purchased with an 80-percent grant from the federal government and ten percent match from the state, and ten percent from the county. The new buses will be put in service beginning July 5th.
